Dyscalculia is a term referring to a wide range of life-long learning disabilities involving maths. It includes a range of mathematical difficulties including an inability to understand the meaning of numbers, and weaknesses in applying mathematical principles to solve problems.

This workshop will provide participants with an understanding of the defining features of mathematics disorders and will focus on the functional impact of dyscalculia, demonstrating effective strategies for use both in and out of the classroom.

Presenter: Kelly Fullarton is a Psychologist at DSF Literacy and Clinical Services. She assesses children, teenagers and adults struggling with acquisition of effective literacy skills and recommends appropriate classroom-based and individual strategies. Kelly is passionate about finding practical and often stress-free strategies to improve literacy skills in children and adults.
